

"ON, STANLEY, ON!"

Stanley Matthews has been quite unfortunate in his brief, Senatorial career. It is quite evident that he is no politician. He may be a sharp lawyer, and a wise and discreet judge, but as a United States Senator, he has shown a lack of good judgment, and has been in constant trouble. He took his seat in that body somewhat impressed with the thought that Stanley Matthews was a large part of the Senate. He also assumed to bear a great part of the responsibility of the government. He took advantage of his relation to President Hayes, and in fact became impressed with the idea that he was a considerable part of the Administration. How he performed his part can be plainly seen by what has transpired in the room of the investigating committee. Potter had his eye on Sherman at first, but now the Secretary has been dropped, and Senator Matthews appears upon the scene as an important character. No one can charge him with committing any fraud, or being cognizant of any fraud, or entering into any bargain or sale. James E. Anderson, who is a liar, a perjurer and a scoundrel, is supreme and incomparable, and introduced to Senator Matthews. From what the latter had heard of the fellow Anderson, he thought him entitled to some consideration at the hands of the Administration, and he undertook to assist him to a place. Everybody can see that Matthews was duped. He wrote too many letters, and confided too much in Anderson. He was made the custodian of that noted "agreement" between Anderson and Weber, a forged instrument, whereas he should not have had anything to do with it. In this way Anderson's treachery and villainy got the Senator into hot water out of which he is laboring hard to deliver himself.

His name was used so freely before the Committee, and so many of the letters to and from him were read, that the central figures of attraction became Matthews and Anderson, while Secretary Sherman was entirely lost sight of. Considering the voluminous correspondence between the Ohio Senator, and Anderson the perjurer, after the election in 1876, it was thought best to summon the Senator to appear before the Committee and explain things. This he refused to do claiming that the dignity of his position as a United States Senator, should exempt him from any command by the House. Here again he made a blunder. If he were shrewd, and were a wise politician, he would have defied his senatorial robes, and promptly answer the summons of Potter's committee, by telling the committee all he knew about the charge of fraud, and why he and Anderson had so much to say about the public patronage. Senator Stanley Matthews should go on the witness stand at once and make a clean breast of the whole thing. Justice and common sense demand that this shall be done.

THE CONGRESSIONAL QUESTION IN WISCONSIN.

The will be an unusually deep interest connected with the congressional election in all the States this fall. The revolutionists and traitors in Congress will make a desperate struggle to hold their present majority in the House of Representatives. They will attempt, and probably will succeed, in carrying the South by violence and murder, as they did two years ago. What the Democrats want is the government in their own hands, and there is a conspiracy being inaugurated to accomplish this. For the consummation of this conspiracy, no effort will be spared to carry the next House. Whatever is necessary in the way of outrage, threats, intimidation, or even murder, to secure this end, the Democracy will not for a moment pause to do it. This being an established fact, it behooves Wisconsin to be on the alert. By any sort of work, six districts can be carried, which will make a gain of one. Let the Republican party stand by the Government in this hour when the Democracy is again attempting to throw the country in the vortex of civil war and revolution.

In the First District, Mr. Williams will be renominated by common consent. Taking into account the condition of things at Washington, the district would not do its duty if it did not return him to Congress. The Second District, now represented by Mr. Caswell, has several candidates. Caswell is serving his second term, and has made a safe member. While he has not been heard much on the floor of the House, his influence has been felt in the Committee room where the principal business is done. Among those who are candidates, the Milwaukee Sentinel names Senator Barden, E. E. Woodman, of Baraboo, Senator Barrows, of Madison, and Bowman, of Sauk County. The Republicans should nominate their strongest man, and make sure of electing their candidate. It won't do to run many chances in that district.

Of course, the Third District will renominate George C. Hazelton, of Boscelo. This is his first term. He is too valuable a man to be dispensed with in Congress. He is not only a brilliant lawyer, but he is a ready and a eloquent speaker, a sound Republican, and a man who cannot be intimidated on the floor of the House by any threats the rebels can make. The third district would commit political suicide in not giving Mr. Hazelton a re-nomination. He is the kind of a man to send to Congress at this supreme hour of the Nation's trial, and we hope his district will show its devotion to Republican principles and its appreciation of the man by giving him a nomination by acclamation.

The Fourth District includes Milwaukee and is represented by Mr. Lynde, and it is said that the sands of his political life are run out and that his place will be filled by another.

General Ed. S. Bragg, who now represents the Fifth District, is serving his first term, and there is a strong probability that it will be his last. He got his nomination two years ago after a hard struggle, defeating the chivalrous Sam Burchard, when the latter had been in Congress but one term. Sam's friends will remember this against the little Bragg, and it is highly probable that he will be called upon to retire after Burchard's fashion.

That singular specimen of humanity, Gabe Bouck, a Bourbon Democrat, who represents the Sixth District, which is Republican, is "disgusted" with Congress. Well he might be. His Congressional days are well-nigh ended. The Republicans in his district are now united and will pull together with a strong will this fall. They blush at the thought of their own folly two years, and now will make amends. The Republicans have several good candidates and will find no trouble in uniting strongly on one of them.

Judge H. L. Humphrey, of the Seventh, the strongest Republican district in the State, will probably be returned. No one has the cheek to oppose him especially when he is on his first term.

Thad Pound of the Eighth is also serving his first term and will be renominated. He has done as much work for his constituents as any man could do who has only had one year's experience in Congress.

GRANT AND THE SOUTHERN POLITY.

We have several times stated that General Grant was responsible for the overthrow of the Republican party in Louisiana in the winter of 1877. If any one is to blame for the downfall of Packard and the establishment of Nicholls, it is Grant, and not Hayes. We do not follow President Hayes in his Southern policy, neither can we uphold the course Grant took in the winter of 1877, when he had the power to aid the Republican cause in that State, and when right demanded that he, as President of the United States, should support the Republican Legislature of Louisiana. His refusal completely crushed the party in that forlorn State, and turned the government thereof over to the bulldozers and the murderers. To support our position, and to throw the blame where it justly belongs, we publish the famous telegram sent by Grant to Governor Kellogg. It is too significant to need further comments:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7, 1877. To Governor Kellogg, New Orleans. I am constrained to decline your request for the aid of troops to inaugurate a new State Government. To do so would be to recognize one of the two rival Governments of the State, and would be to violate the Constitution. I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant, U. S. GRANT.

The death of Thomas Winans, the well-known railway contractor and millionaire, died at Newport on Sunday night. He was a resident of Baltimore and had been for many years. He went to Russia while a young man, took contracts for building railways, and being eminently successful, he amassed a large fortune which has been variously estimated at from $10,000,000 to $40,000,000. He was a cousin of the Hon. John Winans, of this city.

The recent election in Oregon, will defeat the election of John H. Mitchell to the United States Senate, whose term expires on the 31 of March, 1879. It is stated that Senator Mitchell has ostentatiously identified himself with railroad schemes which favored Jay Gould rather than the State of Oregon, and this being generally understood in the State contributed to the success of the Democrats.

The Wisconsin Legislature of 1877 passed a bill appropriating $10,000 to be given to the proprietor of the most successful steam wagon. On Monday half a dozen competitors were at Madison, but none of them appeared with their steam wagons. One of the competitors being one of the badges created some dissatisfaction, but the matter was amicably settled.

An election took place in Oregon a week ago, and it has just been reported that while the Republican State ticket is elected, the Democratic candidate for Congress is elected, and that the Democrats will have a majority on a joint ballot in the Legislature.

There is a strong possibility that Congress will not adjourn on the 17th. There would be substantial reasons for national rejoicing if the revolutionary Congress will adjourn next Monday. It is a damnation to the country.

Five tornadoes wrought destruction in the United States on Sunday afternoon and evening. In Georgia, Tennessee, and Ohio, the storm was very severe. Several persons were killed.

The Chicago Journal came to hand this morning containing one hundred and twenty-six pages. It contained the annual list of delinquent taxes for Cook county.

Ben Butler was engaged yesterday in throwing bricks at the Administration, but on account of his crooked eye, he missed his mark.

Dennis Donnelly, who murdered Thomas Sanger, at Heaton's colliery, Pennsylvania, in 1875, was hanged at Pottsville to-day.

William Calumet Bryant's condition is becoming alarming and fears are entertained that his injuries will prove fatal.

The Sub-Committee which went to Florida, will return home no wiser than before.

SENSATIONS.

The Latest Brought Out by the Potter Fraud Committee—General Butler Showing His Hand.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—General Butler commenced throwing his bricks to-day, and exposed the hand he is playing in the Potter Committee. He remarked to-day that the testimony brought out so far in the Potter Committee was but a shadow compared with the substance that is to come, and when asked what he meant, replied: "I will keep you newspaper writers in sensations all summer." Baker's dispatch, which was read in committee to-day, is but the introduction of a line of testimony to prove the so-called bargain between Matthews and others of the President's friends, with Southern congressmen which occurred at the Wormley Hotel conference, and which will be carried on until it includes the Harlan-McVeagh Louisiana Commission. Butler has in his possession evidence which he says will show that Secretary Sherman secured money to pay the expenses of the commission from the syndicate to which he gave the contract for the sale of 1½ per cent bonds, and this will be brought out in a few days.

It is understood that Matthews will continue to refuse to testify before the Potter committee, and it is expected that if he does not answer the subpoena to-morrow the committee will bring the matter to the attention of the House. If Senator Kellogg is subpoenaed, he will take the same course as Matthews.

Mrs. Weber, wife of the Supervisor who was killed; Mrs. Jenks, the mysterious female in the Louisiana business; ex-Congressman Darrell, and other Louisiana witnesses have arrived.

Referring to the Boulds Baker dispatch, read in the evidence to-day, in which Judge Key's name, with others, is recommended for Cabinet position, the Judge says that at that time he had never heard of Boulds Baker, and did not know there was such a man in existence. It is true he gave Baker position as Special Agent of the Postoffice Department, but even at that time he knew nothing of the dispatch referred to. As a matter of fact he knew nothing of this dispatch until after Baker quit the service last August. He appointed Baker upon the recommendation of Democrats and Republicans alike, but largely upon the earnest recommendation of late Senator Morton. Those who are trying to make it appear that Baker recommended Key for a place in the Cabinet, and for that reason Key made Baker a special agent, are on the wrong trail, for Baker resigned the office Key gave him, before Key heard of the dispatch. That was put in evidence to-day. The Judge laughs heartily at the whole affair, as an amusing illustration of "much ado about nothing."

DROPPED.

A Committee of Plymouth Church Finds Mrs. Tilton Guilty, and Will Expel Her from Membership.

New York, June 10.—The Examining Committee of Plymouth met to-night to investigate the charges preferred by Mrs. Barbara Walton against Mrs. Tilton. All the members of the committee were present except Mr. W. White. The session was secret, and the proceedings were brief. Mr. Ira B. Wheeler, counsel for Mrs. Tilton, and Joseph Richards, her brother, appeared early in the evening and submitted a written communication to the Committee, simply reiterating the charges made by her in confession. Mrs. Walton gave her testimony, which consisted of a verbal description of the scene which took place at the residence of Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Tilton the day the confession was made public. The objects of her testimony is to establish the charges that Mrs. Tilton has slandered Henry Ward Beecher, she being the only member who ever heard the alleged slanderous words from Mrs. Tilton's lips. After Mrs. Walton had testified, the Committee adjourned, announcing that nothing would be made public until they were ready to make their report to the church. It was subsequently learned that they will recommend that Mrs. Tilton's name be dropped from the rolls.

MATTHEWS.

The Senate Investigating Committee to Stand as First Appointed.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Senator Edmunds, Chairman of the select Senate committee recently appointed on motion of Stanley Matthews, has reconsidered his intention of asking to be excused from service, and will act as chairman. Messrs. Davis of Illinois, Whyte, and Jones of Florida will also remain on the committee. It is probable that the sessions of this committee will not continue more than a few days after the adjournment of Congress. The committee will meet for organization to-morrow, but, owing to the pressure of public business in the Senate, there is very little probability of the investigations being commenced until Congress adjourns.

SOCIALISM.

The Latest of the Situation—Attitude of the Liberals in Germany.

BERLIN, June 10.—The Liberal newspapers regret the proposed dissolution of the Reichstag. They profess to believe that a Liberal majority will again be returned, more than ever determined to resist a reactionary policy, whereas, if the present Parliament is re-convened, and a definite bill against socialists and lawlessness submitted, the majority would accept it, and thus save the country from reactionary and Ultramontane experiments. The Government does not share the belief that a Liberal majority will be re-elected. Bismarck evidently counts upon a thorough political revolution, which will enable him not only to prosecute the campaign against the Democrats, but to carry those measures of economy and domestic policy which he endeavored to put through the Reichstag by the transaction with the National Liberals at the time Bennigsen's entry into the Cabinet was decided.

PARIS, June 10.—The Temps learns that the French police, complying with the request of the German Government, made a descent Saturday on the houses of several Germans in Paris, who were suspected of complicity in the crime of Dr. Nobeling. Two persons were arrested, detained some hours, and released. The police are satisfied that no indications of a conspiracy exist in Paris.

Senator Richardson Interviewed.

A correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel interviewed a member of the Legislature last week, on State politics, from which the following is taken:

Senator Hamilton Richardson was found at his seat in the Senate Chamber. He represents the three thousand Republican majority and the people generally of Rock county, at Janesville, where he has been a prominent business man for many years. He takes a more than ordinary interest in public affairs, and especially in educational matters, and in the progress of the State literary and charitable institutions. His first term in the Senate expired with this Legislature, and he will probably be a candidate for re-election. He was a member of the Assembly in 1874. The objects of the interview were stated with the following result:

Senator Richardson—I think the prospects of the Republican party in this State are good—very better. I have not a doubt that the present administration of Hayes administration has strengthened the party by uniting it more closely together and causing personal and factional rivalries to vanish in view of the danger to the peace of the country through the revolutionary designs of the Democratic leaders. At least I know it is so in our country, and I believe it is so in yours.

Correspondent—Do you think the Republicans will carry the next legislature?

Senator R.—I do. The Senate will certainly be Republican, as you can see for yourself, probably as strong as it is now. In the Assembly I believe we shall gain enough to reverse the present Democratic and Greenback majority. O. H. Parker, the Greenback member from Beloit district, will be succeeded by a straight Republican. Parker, by the way, is to be the Greenback candidate for Congress in the First District, and he will probably be supported by the Democrats.

Cor.—Will Charles Williams be renominated for Congress?

Senator R.—Yes, without opposition; by acclamation. There was a feeling against Williams on account of his apparent endorsement of Howe's attack on the administration. But he retraced his steps so promptly, or rather, he explained his course so clearly and satisfactorily that the temporary feeling has been forgotten. He will be elected by the usual majority.

Cor.—Are there no candidates for Congress against him?

Senator R.—No. Well, that is, there are a half dozen local candidates, but they are all retiring. There will be no opposition to his re-nomination.

Senator Bones was interviewed as follows:

Correspondent—Who will be nominated for Congress?

Senator B.—O. Williams will be nominated for another term without opposition. No. Baker is not a candidate. All the other candidates have been understood, have got out of the way of Williams.

Correspondent—It is supposed you will be a candidate for re-election to the Senate, next fall?

Senator B.—That is not definitely settled; in fact, there has been no movement in any direction. Nobody has been talked to, and I have no intention of doing so.

Reminiscence of Lafayette's Visit.

Dr. Stephen M. Potter, who resides near Manlius village, is an octogenarian who has had quite an experience in his long life. When General Lafayette came through this State, Mr. Potter was practicing medicine in Lockport, New York. The citizens of Lockport held a meeting and appointed a committee to meet the distinguished guest. The committee received General Lafayette at Lewiston. They were mounted on horseback, and as they came upon a high ridge, about a hundred Tuscarora Indians were encountered lying in the shade under the ridge. Mr. Cusick, the chief, asked to see Lafayette. He was permitted to get into Lafayette's carriage, and asked the General if he recognized him. Lafayette replied that he did not. The Indian then put his hand in his pocket and drew out a parchment, which he showed the General and asked him if he recognized it. The General answered that the signature was his. After examining the parchment General Lafayette turned to Mr. Potter and said that the parchment was a commission given by George Washington during the Revolution for good services during the war. Lafayette then embraced the Indian and shed tears. The scene was an affecting one, and Mr. Potter says that all who witnessed it were very much affected by it.—Syracuse Courier.

SHOPIERS.

—The farmers in the town of Turtle having for years given their attention to stock raising and dairy interests with a number of cheese factories in their midst, find that cows are more profitable than raising all grain, and our factories have become well established at home and abroad that they have not been able to supply the demand for their cheese for years past, and the prospects are that our factories will do a larger business this year than they have ever done.

The Peerless Soapman gave us a friendly call, having samples of his prime bubble tubs, they looked so inviting that we secured a nest for our dairy use.

—Corn that has been planted this year with horse planters has come up better than that planted in other ways.

—Rye has made a wonderful growth this season and the prospects are the crop will yield largely. In some fields the straw measures from six to seven feet in height.

—Wheat, oats and barley look very promising for a bountiful harvest, but corn seems to be having a hard time to live through the cold wet weather we have had for the past few weeks.

—Our town house case came before the court last Saturday. The case was decided to be legal and the parties took an appeal to the Supreme Court, so the end is not yet.

—Mr. S. Miner had a cow badly mutilated while pasturing on the highway last week. Some curiosity has been excited as to how the animal could have received such treatment.

—New potatoes will be in market early this year. Some of our citizens have them large enough for use now.

There is Trouble in Store

For those who neglect to rectify irregularities of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which they foolishly imagine will "come right of themselves." Of this silly error such persons are usually disabused by the development of some serious chronic malady, traceable to what they were pleased to consider a trifling disorder of the above named associate organs. Such a culmination is easily avoided. A course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters invariably has the effect of renewing the secretory action of a torpid liver, restoring healthy digestion and assimilation, and rendering the habit of body perfectly regular. The activity of these all important functions being restored, and the entire system toned and regulated by this incomparable corrective and invigorant, no danger to the general health is to be apprehended from cases which, if not eradicated in time, will assuredly undermine it. jnl04edw1w

The Boss Insurance Agency.

Dimock & Hayner are agents for the oldest and strongest American and English Fire Insurance Companies. Among the list are such companies as the Old Fins and Phoenix, of Hartford, the Home, Continental and Westchester, of New York, the Insurance Company of North America, Fire Association, Girard, American, Pennsylvania, and Franklin, of Philadelphia. The Liverpool and London and Globe, Imperial and Northern, and Commercial Union of England, and the Western Assurance and British America, of Canada, and others.

You can now get insurance in the above well known companies at the lowest possible figures. This being the case it would seem useless to throw away money upon weak and unknown companies. Get the best at the best rates. jnl04

Liver is King.

The Liver is the Imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want. dec3ed0ed18w6m

A Pardonable Pride

Prompts most people to delay, by any laudable means that science affords, the evidence of physical decay. Who that is in perfect health would not match the bright eye, the active mind, and other appearances of youthful vigor, with the luxuriance, the rich color and beauty of youthful hair? Parker's Hair Balm stands pre-eminent as an elegant hair dressing, and by its healthful action on the roots not only promotes a luxuriant growth of the young hair, but unfailingly restores gray or faded hair to the original youthful color, giving a soft, rich, and attractive appearance of great beauty. No other preparation so effectually removes dandruff or stops falling of the hair; its cooling and healing action entirely curing itching and humors of the scalp, and keeping the skin clean, white and healthy. It is perfectly harmless, exquisitely perfumed, and contains nothing that will soil the skin or gum the hair. It is not a dye, and is unequalled for excellence and purity. "Dobbins' Electric Soap."

Having obtained the agency of this celebrated Soap for Janesville and vicinity, I append the opinion of some of our best people to its merits. I have washed with "Dobbins' Electric Soap," made by L. L. Cragin & Co., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and pronounce it the best soap I have ever used. The rapidity and ease with which it enables one to do one's washing is really surprising. Boiling the clothes is entirely unnecessary, and no rubbing is needed. I would not be without it. NELLIE KENNISTON.

I have no hesitation in saying that no housekeeper should be without Dobbins' Electric Soap. I can heartily recommend it, it is a charm in the wash-bowl. ELIZA P. LEAHN.

As a time, labor and money saving article, I take pleasure in recommending Dobbins' Electric Soap to my neighbors. It promises, washes and does all it promises. MARY YEOMANS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lovejoy are spending a few weeks in the city.
—Miss Hattie Hopkins, of Fort Atkinson, is spending a few days in this city, the guest of the Misses Chittenden.
—Miss Biddle's piano recital last evening was quite well attended, and the programme was successfully carried out.
—George Hield, Jr., is better healed than ever now, his family circle being increased by the arrival of a daughter. All well.
—Jacob Heller was pounding stone on Pleasant street yesterday, when a fragment struck him in the eye, causing a painful and serious wound.
—Dr. George H. McCaussey and Dr. C. Loftis Martin left to-day for Milwaukee, to attend the Masonic Convocation to be held there to-morrow.
—M. Hanson & Co., completed, to-day, the altars and pedestals for the new hall of the Knights of Pythias, and they will be put into use to-night. They are beauties.
—The reception given last night to the Mutual Improvement Club by Mr. and Mrs. Jenk Li Jones, was a strictly informal affair, but the occasion was a decidedly enjoyable one to all who participated.
—Mrs. G. F. Grissom leaves to-morrow morning for a visit among Eastern friends, preparatory to an extended trip through Europe. She will be absent about a year. Her many friends wish her the safest and happiest of voyages.
—The funeral services of Miss Hattie Castle, adopted daughter of Mr. John Slightam, will take place at Christ church to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, instead of being at the house. Rev. A. L. Ryce, the rector, will officiate.
—Alexander Buchholz has fitted up his new side-wheel steamer "Bismarck," and has it now in readiness for the use of fishing and excursion parties. It is a small but substantial craft, and is just the thing for pleasure trips, and can be obtained at reasonable rates.
—Some of the residents of the Second Ward complain that thieves are making raids on their choice plants. Several yards have been entered of late and plants dug up and removed. A sharp lookout should be kept, and choice plants in pots should be put under lock and key at night.
—Carter & Parker have sold out their livery stable to Mr. L. O. Robinson, who formerly kept the Williams House. Mr. Robinson is a man who was friends in whatever business he engages, and will doubtless prove as popular in his new enter as he has proved popular as a landlord.
—A well-to-do farmer was in the city the other day and is said to have been caught filching a chunk of beef from a butcher's stall. He pleaded guilty on being accused by the meat-chopper, returned the plunder, and paid $4 into the till, it being all the spare change he had in his trousers.
—Mrs. Larkins was brought before Justice Prichard to-day charged with the heinous crime of murdering two of a neighbor's geese, valued at two shillings each. The case was continued until to-morrow. Attorney Smith represented the prosecution and Attorney Fethers the defendant. Of course feathers ought to be left on a goose case.
—The Pleasant Grove Temple of Honor, of the town of Janesville, are preparing for a good time, Wednesday. There will be a strawberry festival, in the afternoon, and a dance in the evening. There will be many who will go from this city, as the Grange Hall is a popular resort, and no entertainments given there are pleasanter than those given by the Temple.
—Last Friday night burglars entered the residence of Mrs. Fanny Morris, corner of Linn and Holmes streets. They gained entrance to the rooms occupied by Conductor Robert Stewart and wife, and they being away at the time, the fellows ransacked the bureau drawers at leisure, but finding no jewelry or money, departed apparently in disgust, taking no plunder with them.
—Four tramps were captured last night in the stock-barn at the rear of the Northwestern freight house. They were asleep in the hay and with them was also captured one of Janesville's boys, Will Griffin, a fourteen year old, who was in a bad state of intoxication. The gang were taken to the jail. Six other tramps were in the city yesterday but left for the South on the 9 o'clock train last night.
—Clement Brothers and Forrester assisted by Morgan G. Evans, organist, and Barton Stanley, female impersonator, will give an enjoyable concert at the Opera house, next Friday evening. These gentlemen are well known and they give an entertainment which it is hard to beat. They fill an evening with music and mirth, and present an entertainment which has no exceptionable features. A liberal patronage will, it is hoped, be theirs.
—The Red Wing (Minnesota) Argus contains the sad announcement that Judge Orrin Densmore died in that city, June 24. He was born in New Hampshire, September 22, 1805, but moved while a boy, with his father to Genesee valley, New York. He was married in 1828, to her who now mourns his death. In 1846 he moved into this county, and settled in Emerald Grove, where he resided until 1857, when he removed to Red Wing. During his residence in this county he occupied a prominent social rank, and some minor official positions. Since his removal to Minnesota he has served as County Commissioner, member of the Legislature, County Treasurer, Judge of Probate, City Clerk, and for several years was Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State, with headquarters at St. Paul. He leaves surviving him his widow and six children. They will receive the sympathy of many friends of the family living in this vicinity.

OBITUARY.

THOMAS C. SLEEPER.

Thomas Cooper Sleeper was born at Laurens, Otsego County, N. Y., April 24th, 1796, and at the time of his death, which occurred at his late residence on Ruger Avenue, in this city, June 11th, 1878, at a quarter to eight o'clock a. m., had reached the advanced age of 82 years one month and eighteen days.
Mr. Sleeper was united in marriage with Sarah, daughter of William Cook, Esq., of Pompey, Onondaga County, N. Y., December 14, 1817, and the following spring removed to Genesee County, N. Y., where, with the exception of a short interval of time, he lived until he came to Janesville, Wisconsin, in the spring of 1851. During the first year of his residence here he built the house where he lived at the time of his death, making it the family residence for nearly 27 years. To this pleasant home the friends and neighbors of the family were always cordially welcomed. Mr. and Mrs. Sleeper celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage, an event occurring but rarely. The surviving members of the family are the estimable widow, now in the 83rd year of her age, two sons and one daughter, J. A. Sleeper Esq., a prominent lawyer of Chicago, Charles E. Sleeper, of New Richmond, St. Croix county, Wisconsin, and Sarah Ann, wife of Abel Jones, Esq., of St. Louis, Missouri.
Mr. Sleeper had a paralytic stroke in his right arm in December last, and it had been almost useless since. On Monday of last week at 1 o'clock p. m. he had another attack. His son, J. A. Sleeper, and Mrs. Jones, on being telegraphed, came at once, and remained with him, doing all that could be done to alleviate his sufferings and to make his passage to the world of spirits as comfortable and peaceful as possible, as well as to cheer and support their aged mother, who, now that the father is gone, is naturally the sole object of their filial care and solicitude.
Mr. Sleeper was well known here, and was highly respected. He was a kind and affectionate husband and parent, a good neighbor, and above all an honest man. His life, though quiet and unostentatious, was worthy of imitation. In religious belief he was decidedly Universalist, and lived in the fullest faith of a blessed future; and though not able to speak during his sickness, there is no reason to doubt that the faith in which he had lived, sustained him in the hour of death, and enabled him to meet the King of Terrors bravely, if not cheerfully to welcome his coming, because of the incalculable gain the change would bring to him. Like as a shock of corn fully ripe, he was gathered into the spiritual harvest. And while those who knew him, and loved and respected him so well, will see him no more on earth, they will remember his life and good examples, and wise counsels, and patiently wait till they are called to follow the way he has gone.
Mr. Sleeper was conscious to the last, and it was a very great consolation to him, that not only were his children present to minister to his needs, but that his oldest surviving brother has been with him since the 6th inst. The good man now rests from his labors in peace.

BELOIT COLLEGE.

The commencement exercises of Beloit College will be held this year beginning Sunday June 30, with a Baccalaureate sermon by President Chapin. Rev. T. P. Sawin, of this city, will address the Missionary Society in the evening. The annual meeting and reunion will take place Tuesday evening, and will consist of an oration by Dr. John S. Lewis, class of '66, and a poem by Rev. E. D. Eaton, class of '72, also a memorial address over the late Oliver A. Willard, by Rev. W. W. Rose, of Pittsfield, Illinois, an old class-mate of Mr. Willard. The exercises of the graduating class will take place Wednesday, July 31. George P. Foster will deliver the Master's oration. In the evening will be given the Senior's concert, at which Bach's band, and Mrs. Hayden, with other singers, will participate.

SHUTTING UP THE SALOONS.

The case of Frank Richards, charged with violating the saloon ordinance, by keeping his place open after 11 o'clock at night, came up before Justice Prichard yesterday afternoon, and was dismissed upon the payment of costs, it being urged that he was the first victim of the proposed raid upon all those who refuse to bolt the doors and douse the glimmers on time. The officers have been trying to strictly enforce the 11 o'clock order of late, but find it attended with difficulty. Some close strictly at the hour, others allow billiard players to finish a game even if it overruns the hour by fifteen or twenty minutes. The man who has put out his lights grumbles because the other man's are still burning, and the latter waits until Marshal Keating comes around and orders him to close. In fact the saloons have rather fallen into the habit of waiting every night until ordered to close. The law does not so shield them, and whether ordered to close or not, they are liable to be fined $25 for each and every offence. Any citizen who grumbles because the law is not better enforced, can find a remedy by complaining himself to the proper authorities, and having offenders arrested.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 59 degrees above, and at two o'clock at 68 above. Clear. One year ago at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 61 above.
The indications to-day are for the upper like region, upper Mississippi, and lower Missouri valleys, rising or stationary, followed by falling barometer, stationary or rising temperature, variable winds and generally clear or partly cloudy weather.

MUSICAL CLUB.

Regular meeting to-night in the parlors of All Souls church.
Mr. VanCleave will play the sonatas op. 110 and op. 111 by Beethoven, giving an analysis of them, and will play the accompaniment of Beethoven's famous love song, Adelaide, which will be sung by Mrs. H. A. Smith.

MUNICIPAL MELANGE.

The Motions and Notices of the City Fathers in Council Assembled.—Small Feed for the Tax-Payers to Lunch Upon.
The Common Council held their regular semi-monthly meeting last evening, at the City Hall, His Honor, Mayor Norcross, in the chair, and all the Aldermen present except Aldermen Hemming, Lawrence and Wilcox.
The journal of the last meeting was read and approved.
The Clerk read a number of miscellaneous accounts against the various funds, which were referred to the Committees.
The May report of the Police Justice was presented and filed.
Ald. Church presented a petition of several citizens of the town of La Prairie, residing on the Emerald Grove road, reciting the deplorable condition of the roads leading to the city from this locality, and lack of a bridge over Spring Brook. The petitioners ask the Council to remedy the defects, promising to lend a helping hand. The petition was referred to the Committee on Highways, Streets and Bridges.
Ald. Church, from the Committee on Highways, Streets and Bridges, to whom had been referred the matter of opening Clarion and Mill streets in the Fifth Ward, reported that the public necessity required that they be opened without delay. The report was adopted.
Ald. McKinney, from the Finance Committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills payable from the several funds. The report was concurred in.
Ald. McKinney, from the same committee, reported back the bill of O. P. Church, for services with self and team, hauling gravel on River street to aid in building the fence on the race, for which he charges three dollars per day, without recommendation.
Ald. Davies moved that the bill be allowed.
Ald. McKinney opposed the bill on the ground that the charge was excessive. The Aldermen stated that teams could be had to do the same work for $2.50 per day.
Ald. Vankirk wanted the Council to establish a uniform price for teams.
Ald. Davies stated that all teams were paid three dollars per day.
Ald. McKinney said that teams did the same kind of work in the Third Ward last winter for two dollars per day, including Church's, and any number of teams could now be employed for $2.50 per day. He said he did not want any sinecures, from Aldermen or anyone else.
The motion was adopted—all the Aldermen voting in the affirmative, except Alderman Church, who did not vote.
Ald. McKinney gave notice that at the next meeting he would move for a reconsideration.
Ald. Vankirk, from the Finance Committee, reported back the May report of the City Treasurer, as correct. Placed on file.
Ald. McKinney, from the Park Committee, introduced an order authorizing the committee to make improvements in the Park, in accordance with the plans and specifications submitted, at an expense not to exceed the sum of $500.
Ald. Fitzgibbon moved that further action in the matter be laid over until the next meeting, that the Aldermen might have an opportunity to examine the plans and specifications. The motion was adopted.
A new grade for Bluff street was established, on motion of Alderman Hutchinson.
Mayor Norcross here called attention to the enforcement of the saloon ordinance, and asked the co-operation of the Aldermen in his efforts to that end.
Ald. Vankirk, from the Fire Committee, reported back the bill of J. P. Fitzgibbon for services as engineer of Engine No. 1, without recommendation.
Ald. McKinney moved that the bill of J. P. Fitzgibbon and that of A. A. Dresser be referred to the Judiciary Committee. Adopted.
Ald. Vankirk, from the Fire Committee, reported in favor of accepting the resignation of Charles Carman as a member of Engine Co. No. 1, and in favor of approving the election of Wm. Airs, of the same company. Report adopted.
The council adjourned.

THE TURF.

The inaugural running meeting of the St. Louis Jockey Club closed yesterday with three well contested events. The three-fourths mile dash, for two year olds, was won by the favorite, Lord Murphy, in 1:19 1/2. The one and a half mile dash for all ages was won by Kennesaw, in 2:47 1/4. The third race, mile heats, was won by Janet, who took the first and third heats in 1:41 1/2, 1:19, while Harkaway won the second heat in 1:45 1/2. Harkaway is said to be out of fix through overwork, having run three races this week.

A LAME PEDESTRIAN.

James Smith commenced last Friday to walk a hundred and ten miles in twenty-four hours, at Berlin, Wis. Just after completing his eighty-seventh mile his legs gave out, and he broke down. He was forty-five minutes after the goal.

WITHIN THE WALLS.

Burr Robbins' Circus and Menagerie get into State Prison.—A Lively Description of the Scene from the Pen of One of the Prisoners.

To the Editor.

We earnestly request you to give us room in your journal to express our unbounded gratitude to Mr. Burr Robbins, the boss showman and reformer of the world. Last Thursday morning, the 6th instant, Robbins' Circus and Menagerie came into the newly fledged city of Waupun, and after parading through the principal streets a short time, Mr. Robbins was invited by our warden, Hon. H. N. Smith, to take his show into the prison yard so we could get a sight of it. Mr. Robbins cheerfully assented, and the head of the splendid procession was immediately turned toward the prison. All work was stopped; we were taken into the yard, the inside gate was opened, and there burst on our vision a sight such as was never before in this or any other penal institution. First came a gentleman seated in a light buggy, drawn by two white horses. This gentleman, we take it for granted, is the ring master. Then came the magnificent band wagon, drawn by ten white horses. The band looked remarkably fine in their gorgeous uniform, and soon convinced us of the superiority of their instruments, the soundness of their lungs, and the dexterity of their fingers by the excellent music they discoursed. Following the band wagon came a cavalcade riding two abreast, composed of ladies and gentlemen, which represented the age of Chivalry. The horses were richly caparisoned, the riders of either sex were artistically dressed, the gentlemen wore cuirasses and helmets, carried battleaxes in their right hands, and looked valiant enough to do battle for their fair companions. There is no such thing as describing the multitude of horses, wagons and cages. One, however, deserves special mention. It was drawn by a team of two horses hitched to the tongue, in front of the horses were six camels in oriental harness, and then to complete the costly team, two huge elephants were on the load. On top of one of the wagons there was a lion in a recumbent position. An Irishman, whom I verily believe is a remote descendant of St. Patrick, saluted the king of the forest thus:

"Is it there ye are? Begorra ye have a fine open countenance and I'm after thinking if it was in the bush ye'd meet me, ye'd be opening yer countenance too wide for me good."
We were all pleased and delighted with what we had seen, and expressed our thanks to the warden and the officers of the prison; to Mr. Robbins and his finished artists of both sexes and we supposed that the show was over with us. But Mr. Robbins was by no means satisfied with what he had done for us, and he resolved to give us a concert in the afternoon as soon as the performance in the city was closed.
Mr. Robbins said in the yard: "Had I known I would have been in here with my circus, I would have had my posters printed for a stay of two days at Waupun, and I would have pitched my tent in the yard and given the boys a regular show." Mr. Robbins has one of the largest shows traveling the country; the animal productions of Asia, of Africa, of Europe and America are found under his tents; his male and female artists cannot be surpassed on the globe; and I am morally certain his daily expenses cannot be less than $500. When we take into account that he was willing to lose one day for our benefit, and did actually put himself to great trouble and expense for us, all parties must concur that such conduct on his part, more forcibly preclaims the goodness of his heart, the sympathetic magnanimity of his mind and the pecuniary disinterestedness of his soul than any words that can flow from the pen of a convict. After we had a good view of the animals, they were driven out of the prison yard, and we returned to the shops with lighter hearts than we had for many a day before.

Several of the boys spoke in praise of Mr. Robbins, and the Warden, when the above mentioned Irishman gave vent to his exuberant gladness in these words: "Och be me sowl, Burr Robbins and the State of Wisconsin can bate the devil out a face, for nara on save the owd devil himself ever saw lions, tigers, elephants and more nar a thousand other fine decent bastards risking themselves among such roarin' blackguards as ourselves till this very blessed day."

His Teutonic friend replied: "Yaw, Badrick, dot is sure, in mine country no show-mans would no so. He been fraid dot so bad mans as we is would make very much corruption mit his animals." When it was first whispered to us that Mr. Robbins was going to give us a concert and show in the afternoon, some of the more incredulous of us received it as a yarn too thin for our credence. We reasoned that Mr. Robbins could neither acquire fortune, merit nor reputation by giving us a show, but we were wrong. Shortly after four o'clock in the afternoon, we were assembled in the chapel, and were sumptuously entertained by Mr. Robbins' actors, singers and musicians, Mr. J. W. Oliver, senior editor of the Waupun Leader, was present, taking notes for his wide awake paper, and judging from the way he laughed, he enjoyed himself as well as any of us. I have been informed he said: "If the show in the town is worth ten cents this is worth half a dollar." We can easily explain why the show in the prison surpassed the performance outside. All the artists entered soul and body into the work laid out for them by their employer. They well knew it would be many years ere some of us would see another circus, and therefore they were determined to give us a good treat. They admirably succeeded. We heartily thanked them all. The prisoners alone gained. What the loss to Mr. Robbins I have no means of knowing; the loss to the firm of M. D. Wells & Co., is about $25.00; the State is out of pocket at present, by giving us the time to go to the circus, but we are fully determined that these trifling losses will be far more than made up by us, both in the quality and quantity of our work and thus demonstrate to the Warden and the firm that we can appreciate such an act of kindness. It is cheering to hear the compliments offered to Mr. Robbins by the officers and prisoners. In conclusion we will say that he wrought a great work here as a reformer; that in him is centered the qualities which constitute human excellence, and wherever he may go, he can rest assured that he left behind him in the city of Waupun and in prison also, an indelible memorial of his transcendent worth as a showman, a gentleman of human feelings, and a citizen in whom Wisconsin and Janesville may feel proud.

PRISONER.

Why is it?

That cheap, adulterated baking powders are warranted equal to Dr. Price's, when it is known that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the purest and healthiest made? It is because the adulterated kinds are bought for less and give a better profit.
